

David Richardson
Chiropractor

'I am not an academic
'I read a lot,
'I think a bit,
'I build my own equipment'.

David has 40+ years of practice in regional NSW and Northern Ireland and holds a Bachelor of Applied Science (Chiropractic) from the University of RMIT.

He currently practices in Eden NSW and has a particular interest in complex cases involving sensory motor integration. David is deeply committed to professional development and expanding the scope of Chiropractic.

e: david.richardson100019@gmail.com

